Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts.; single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1904

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,170

When you buy cloth, you pay for it by the yard. When you buy sugar, you pay for it by the pound. When you buy advertising, you pay for it by the 1000 circulation.

When you buy advertising space in Barre, you get the lowest rates per 1000 circulation and the best returns from the Daily Times. Its advertising rates per 1000 circulation are but two-thirds what they are elsewhere in Barre.

Are you saving that one-third by advertising in the Times?

The murder of a Burlington policeman on the streets of that city last evening was a particularly cold-blooded affair.

The usual bone of contention, the amusement clause, is troubling the Methodist general conference at Los Angeles.

A contemporary says, It is pretty generally conceded that Hon. C. J. Bell has entirely the best of Hon. Zed Stanton in the governorship contest.

If Mr. DeBoer meant anything in his February letter, and if the English language means anything, he did not want to be considered a candidate for the governorship. To attempt to place any other construction on the letter is to make him out a quibbler and a straddler. He is neither. He should pray to be delivered from his fool friends.—St. Johnsbury Republican.

The Republican is a newspaper which had announced its decision to support Bell.

A GENTLEMANLY CONTEST.

Everything was crimson and white on the Goddard campus yesterday, but the blue and white put up a good game against odds. A spectator at the ball game yesterday, who has attended previous athletic contests between the two schools, could

"He Laughs Best Whose Laugh Lasts."

Come to us and make your selection before the novel patterns are picked out and you'll have "the merry ha! ha!" on your slow friends. We have been to headquarters; we have seen every new style and have skimmed the very CREAM. No store in New York can show suits that are newer in style, pattern or cut than these garments. Our Furnishing Goods are equally ahead.

he did not notice the action of the Washington lawyers when their displeasure is so plainly apparent. But Judge Stafford must bear in mind that it is not against himself that the disturbed lawyers are making their attack. Rather is their displeasure intended as a protest against the practice of appointing judges of the supreme court of the District of Columbia from territory outside the district. There is no hostility to Judge Stafford personally. In fact there is no ground for opposition to him that the Washington lawyers could bring forward. When the Vermonters take his new position he will encounter the same feeling that several other appointees have had to meet in recent years, that he is an outsider. It is possible that the Washington lawyers can make a disagreeable situation, but it is more than likely that their petulance spent itself in the protest made at their last meeting, and there will be nothing left but a slight grumbling among the more aggrieved ones. But we believe, with the contemporary, that Judge Stafford is "too far above such small things" to be seriously affected by them, although they are disagreeable.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

The Waterbury order of stone masons has issued a notice that its members will work only nine hours a day after May 15.

Mrs. Silas Sheldon of Highgate Falls, widow of John Chapell died yesterday after a long illness. She was the oldest person in town, being about 96 years old.

Miss Katherine Leonard of the Burlington high school, will read a paper on "Class Room Methods in Geometry" at the conference of teachers of mathematics in secondary schools, to be held at Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H., May 12-14.

John M. Hazel of Newport, has opened a granite quarry on Barton mountain and has several men there at work. It is reported that he has found some granite there which finishes very nicely and there is a sufficient amount of granite, if it is the right quality, to boom the town.

Col. Charles K. Darling of Boston, well known in this state, being formerly of Chelsea, has accepted the appointment of Camp Adams in Mechanics building, where quarters will be provided for $10,000 old soldiers who will visit Boston during the week of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the republic in August.

Moses Denio fell from a heavily loaded wagon he was driving in Waitsfield Sunday noon and the wheels passed over one arm before the horses could be stopped. He was taken to the Heaton hospital in Montpelier Monday morning and his arm was found badly crushed. It has not yet been amputated but it may be possible that he will lose it.

Alma Beechard, aged four years, was badly bitten by a pet dog yesterday afternoon at Pownal. The dog had never been cross before. The child had been playing with the animal some time when someone threw it a bone. She started to take it when the beast snapped at her catching her lower lip, biting completely through it, and scratching her. The girl was promptly attended to and no danger is anticipated. The dog was killed.

Reason For It.
Reggy—And you really believe he tells the truth?
Peggy—Oh, no doubt about it! He's taken it up as a fad.—Detroit Free Press.

When the Frost Is on the Julep.
When the blood is all ambered,
Toned with spices and frapped,
And the fluid in thermometers
Touch one hundred in the shade—
How gently rolls the world away,
How soon the hours pass,
When the frost is on the Julep,
And the straw is in the glass!

What pretty dreams come laughing with
Each vigorous quaff.
And as we keep on quaffing, how
We linger, love and laugh
Until the inviol vestiges
Of care, and all they pass,
When the frost is on the Julep,
And the straw is in the glass!

What fond, enduring memories
Come trooping back from years.
Unmoved by stinging conscience whips,
Unburnt by galling tears—
Oh, how we drift, and drowse, and dream,
And watch the humdrum pass,
When the frost is on the Julep,
And the straw is in the glass!

Yet, hold! The while we drift and dream,
The world moves on apace;
The sands are filtering through the glass,
And we—We lose the race!
Oh, how the dead years haunt us
And watch the humdrum pass,
When the frost is on the Julep,
And the straw is in the glass!

—New Orleans Times Democrat.

Why She Did It.

Algy—I say, my dear Miss Ethel, why is it that you so often allow your pretty eyes to wander in my direction?
Ethel—Because, Algy, it's such a pleasure to rest them on something soft.

TRADE MARK

"It is not in mortals to command success;
But we'll do more, Sempronius — we'll deserve it."

A Success

Phenomenal and Unprecedented

For every effect there is a cause. Things don't "just happen." When, therefore, the "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has attracted in all parts of the country the most particular and critical patronage, and has achieved within a space of two years a success so unprecedented and phenomenal as to excite the wonder of the shoe-world there must be a reason.

This success is of interest to every woman who appreciates style and cares for economy. The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe not only possesses style in an unusual degree—style that is striking and distinctive and which especially appeals to the exacting and fastidious taste—it not only fits faultlessly, thus conducing to a graceful carriage and affording the highest degree of comfort, but it combines with these most desirable attributes the advantage of a sensible, money-saving price.
